

Sinoquipe Scout Reservation

The Sinoquipe Scout Reservation, better known as Camp Sinoquipe, is a beautiful 500 acre rustic Boy Scout camping facility operated by the Mason-Dixon Council, BSA. Hidden amongst the mountainous terrain of Fulton County, Pennsylvania since 1948, the camp's focal point is a 10-acre lake located in a rural area two miles from the village of Fort Littleton, just minutes from the Pennsylvania Turnpike.

The camp features 14 campsites, each with running water, washstand and latrine, and vary in size to accommodate 16 to 60 campers on tent platforms. The new Technology Center, the waterfront, shooting ranges, Ecology Lodge, Scout craft area, handicraft area, and high and low COPE (Challenging Outdoor Personal Experience) course with a climbing and rappelling tower, provide Scouts with everything they need to earn some of the over 60 merit badges offered at Camp Sinoquipe during the summer months. A modern air-conditioned Mike Callas Memorial Dining Hall, new camp showers, and a well-stocked Trading Post, located in the newly constructed Edward and Pauline Anderson Administration Building (pictured below) along with the Health Lodge, a Leaders' Lounge with wi-fi and Administrative offices, makes for a comfortable Scouting experience.

Summer staff positions are open for individuals age 14 and over. Additional information about camp staff can be found on Sinoquipe.org.
